Santa Visits Lions; New Officers Elected

The Antioch Lions Club had a visit from Santa Claus last Monday night at their monthly meeting at Pat's Lounge. Santa appeared to be having a little trouble with a shifting midriff but managed to distribute some rather unusual gifts to members and ... guest, before disaster struck.

Prior to Santa's arrival, a relatively serious group approved the slate of officers for 1963. The entire proposed slate was voted in unanimously and will be installed at the first meeting in January.

Scheduled in the top seat at the head table for the January 14th meeting is Leonard Roblin. Roblin has been active in Lions Club affairs for many years and is a past president of the Community Service Corporation, governing body of the club's swimming pool here in Antioch.

Assisting Roblin in his term as president of the club will be Marvin Heath, 1st vice president, Tom Haviland, 2nd vice president and Maynard Schneider, 3rd vice president.

Dan Dugenski will take over the post of club secretary with Bill Seemann serving as treasurer. In other offices, Leo Keisler was elected.

Lindhurst Gets Lights

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau
Lindhurst will be all lit up for Christmas if the weather doesn't hamper the Public Service crew who are currently at work installing 15 street lights at the most needed intersections.

Surveyors told Warren Flint which streets need them, then a committee chose 15 locations. Work began Dec. 2 at the west end of the village where lights were installed at Hawthorne and Longmeadow; Hawthorne and Sprucewood; Sprucewood and Longmeadow and Elmwood Drive and Longmeadow.

Other locations will be at Witcheed and Laurel; Countryside and Fairfield; Countryside and Woodland; Beck Road and Valley Drive; Valley Drive and Old Elm Road; Beck Road and Rolling Ridge Lane; Green Briar and Honeyuckle; Green Briar and Glendale. A light also will be erected in front of the Civic Center on Old Elm Rd. The lights are 400 lumens and hang over the street.

As the budget allows, more lights will be installed, but for the present time, the committee feels that these will be adequate. They are the first that have been installed in the village in five years. Lights are at all roads leading into Lindhurst on Grand Avenue and in front of St. Mark's Church.

Sharon Frost Dies

Little Sharon Frost, who celebrated Christmas on Dec. 2 because doctors warned her parents she might not live through Christmas, died Thursday, Dec. 6.

Sharon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frost, 5 S. Park Lane, Antioch, had suffered from a brain tumor since last May.

She was born March 21, 1950, in North Dakota and came to Zion with her parents when she was about two years old. The Frost family moved to Antioch about a year ago.

Sharon had attended Lakeview Grade School in Zion. She was in the seventh grade at Antioch Grade School until she went to Victory Memorial Hospital three weeks ago, where she died. She had previously undergone treatments at Children's Memorial Hospital.

She is survived by her parents; two brothers, Robert, Jr., and Ronald; a sister, Rebecca Anne; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Frost of Alabama.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 8, from the Studebaker Funeral Home in Zion with the Rev. Bobby Jackson of the Church of God officiating. Interment was in Pine View Cemetery.

Xmas Plays On Bill For Saturday

An evening of one-act plays will be presented this Saturday by the Fine Arts Department, in cooperation with the Drama Club of Antioch Township High School. All three one-act plays will be student directed, under the supervision of Kenneth Smouse and Ruth Nickelson, drama directors. Curtain time in the high school auditorium will be 8 p.m.

The play, "And a Happy New Year," by Hilda Manning, will be directed by Verna Turavaara. The play is a tender and poignant drama-comedy. The setting is Miss Weston's School for Girls, and the time is Christmas Eve. All the girls have departed for the holidays—all except four. They are not very happy about it. Good news comes for three of the four, and only one girl remains. Then, a special miracle occurs and the last girl departs joyously on a really happy holiday. Featured in the play will be Harriet Wells, Mary Sorenson, Nancy Lindblad, Peggy Gregg, Athana Galanopoulos, Jane Higginson, and Terri Starman.

"The Monkey's Paw," a classic thriller by W. W. Jacobs and Louis N. Parker, will be directed by Jerry Burke. The play centers around the nummified paw of a monkey and the three disastrous wishes which it supposedly can grant its owner. The wishes are granted—but at a horrifying expense. The members of the cast are: David Cariff, Cindy Brenna, Jeff Ryan, Ernie Westlund, and Robert Thomley.

The third play, "Dust of the Road," by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, is directed by Kathy Lusik. A Christmas story, the play tells of a farmer and his wife and their plan to embezzle a savings entrusted to them by a deceased friend for his son. They are on the brink of their crime when the greatest traitor the Christian world has known pays a visit to their home. Jeff Ryan, Ernie Westlund, Therest Manzano, and Robert Thomley make up the cast of this play.

Holders of season tickets are reminded that the date of the play is the 15th of December, not the 14th as marked on their tickets. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Clavey Speaks At Meeting

Antioch Township High School was host to members of the North Suburban Council for Social Studies at a dinner meeting at the school on Tuesday, Dec. 4.

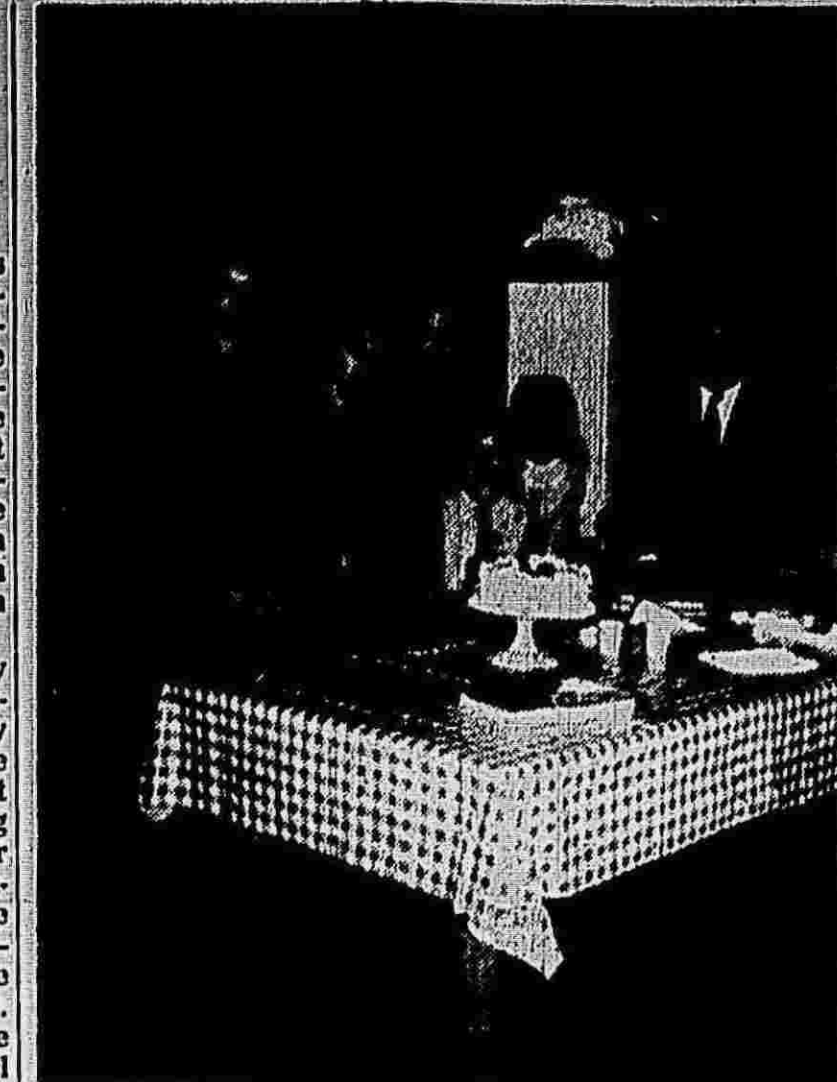

Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Brown, Warren Polley, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dittman, and Orville Clavey.

Harrison Brown is president of the North Lakes Division of the Illinois Education Association. Orville (Pat) Clavey spoke to the guests on the problem of juvenile delinquency in Lake County. His talk was followed by a question and answer period.

Mrs. Jeanette Tulumello, chairman of the Social Studies department at the school, said the organization meets four times a year. The next meeting will be held at Northwestern University on March 19, with Highland Park High School the host for the evening.

A letter from Mr. Petty explaining why he could not be present was read. Music was furnished by the Fine Arts Dept. under the direction of Joseph Rush and a one-act play, "Dust of the Road," was presented under the direction of Kenneth Smouse.

Dinner was served by the Home Economics girls under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Olson.

Loses Roll Of Bills On Street

Mrs. Nellie Hanke hopes that someone will remember that it's the Christmas season, and return to her the roll of bills she lost.

Mrs. Hanke, of 1030 Bishop St., Antioch, lost the money while shopping in Antioch. She discovered her loss when she visited Barnstable's Dept. Store.

Clerks in all of the stores searched, but no trace of the roll of bills could be found, so Mrs. Hanke decided she must have lost the money on the street.

The money—$77 in bills—was lost between 3:4 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 11.

"I wouldn't feel quite so bad if it were my own money," Mrs. Hanke said. "But it was my son's. He had asked me to cash his check and so some Christmas shopping for him."

Passing Motorist Aids Accident Victim

Mrs. Warren Beattie of Tiffany Road, Antioch, is grateful to the passing motorist who aided her son, Dennis, when his car ran off the road on Rte. 173 near Shumoneson's Resort last Friday night.

The unknown Good Samaritan stopped and took Dennis, who was alone in the car, to Dr. Bobzien, from where he was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital.

Dennis Beattie, 22, had been at Aunt Min's Kitchen and had borrowed a friend's car. He ran off the road at the curve near the bridge and into the ravine. Injured and bleeding, he climbed back to the road and started to walk back to Aunt Min's to call police, when the motorist stopped and aided him.

Honor Sheriff, Mrs. Larson

A testimonial dinner for Sheriff and Mrs. Charles Larson is planned for Wednesday, January 16, at Lorenz's Smart Country House.

Dinner and dancing will make up the program for the evening, starting at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited, but only a limited number of tickets will be sold.

The dinner-dance is a non-profit, non-partisan affair, intended only to honor Sheriff Larson, the first Antioch resident to become Sheriff of the county, and his wife, said Marvin Heath, spokesman for the group organizing the affair.

Toys Roll In To "Operation Santa Claus"

This is most certainly going to be a "Toyful" Christmas for the needy boys and girls in Antioch, if the public continues to support the Moose "Operation Santa Claus" campaign as they have in these first two weeks.

According to Ed Peterson, chairman of the Moose lodge's civic affairs committee, the people of this area are responding wonderfully in this effort to make sure that Santa doesn't forget any boy or girl in this community.

In addition to the avalanche of toys, there have also been scores of letters to the Moose committee, complimenting them on this project. Here are a few of this city's leading officials and businessmen who have endorsed the Toys for Needy Children campaign:

Mayor Murrill Cunningham, Supervisor Lloyd (Red) Murrie, Fr. Edmund Hood.

Chairman Ed Peterson also announced today that the following truck owners will donate trucks and drivers for the assembly and distribution of all the toys collected: Carl Schiesler, Robert Gerloff, Ronald Polson, Governor, Ed Peterson, chairman; and the Women of the Moose.

Here are the locations of the collection depots where either new or undamaged used toys may be deposited:

1. The Jaycee Building (Main and Lake Streets)
2. Moose Lodge (Main St.)
3. The Jewel Store (Lake Street)
4. Post Office (Orchard Street)
5. IGA Store, (Routes 59 and 173)

Many Moose volunteers, in addition to the members of the Civic Affairs committee are busy sorting, classifying and wrapping the toys already contributed. The names of needy boys and girls in this area are being obtained from local welfare agencies.

Jaycees Honor Rep. Church With Dinner

Evanston, Ill. (Dec. 6, 1962)—New York Congresswoman Katharine St. George will head a group of prominent national and local speakers slated to pay tribute to U. S. Representative Marguerite Stitt Church on Tuesday evening, January 8, the Evanston Jaycees announced today.

The Jaycees are sponsors of a community-wide testimonial dinner to honor Mrs. Church who is retiring Jan. 5, 1963, after 12 years in Congress. She succeeded her husband, the late Ralph E. Church, who had served 14 years in Congress.

Gregory L. Wanberg, general chairman of the dinner, said Mrs. St. George would be joined on the program by U. S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen. Both are honorary co-chairmen of the dinner.

Other national figures include U. S. Representatives J. L. Plicher of Meigs, Ga., and Fred Schwegel of Davenport, Iowa. Plicher is a ranking Democrat on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and chairman of its Economic Policy, of which Mrs. Church is the ranking minority member. Schwegel serves on the House Public Works Committee, and its special "watchdog" subcommittee on roads.

Local Clubs Treat Kids To Movies

The Antioch Lions and Moose and the Lakes Region Jaycees are joint sponsors of a Christmas movie treat scheduled for Saturday afternoon on Dec. 22 at the Antioch Theatre.

Three hundred tickets will be given to school children. The three organizations will give the tickets to school principals to be distributed.

The show will start at 1 p.m., last 2½ to 3 hours, and will include Christmas cartoons.

The Lakes Region Jaycees remind prospective Beauty Contest contestants that the Beauty Pageant will again be a feature of next summer's Festival.

Antioch Grade Plans For Emergencies

The local elementary schools are making plans to care for the school population in the event of a civil defense or storm emergency.

A questionnaire has been sent home with all children asking that up-to-date addresses and phone numbers be reported to the school.

If neither parent is at home during the school day, the school asks that an alternate place be listed where the child could be sent.

School officials state that there is a two week supply of food on hand in the cafeteria in case it becomes necessary to keep the children at school; however, they prefer to send the children home if 30 minutes time is available in case of emergency.

Four members of a family perished in a fire in their home early Sunday morning.

Elmer H. Deeke, 48 of Round Lake Beach, and his three children, David 6, John 2, and Nila 4, were the victims of the fire. Mrs. Lillian Deeke and another daughter Tonya 7, escaped the burning home.

Mrs. Deeke said the fire was apparently caused by an overheated stove pipe on a space heater. She awoke once to find the stove pipe red hot and the ceiling smoking and turned off the stove until it cooled. Relighting the heater, she returned to bed, to be awakened by dense smoke. She said she aroused the children and started to the door with them, but the three who perished ran into their father's bedroom. She was unable to return to rescue them because of the intense heat and flames.

Firemen were also unable to reach the victims.

Funeral services for Elmer Deeke and the three children were held Tuesday at the McGillis Funeral Home.

The Mother's Club of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Round Lake is collecting clothes and funds to aid the two surviving members of the family.

Explosion at Fox Lake
Twenty-five persons were injured in an explosion and blaze last Sunday that destroyed the building in which services of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of All Saints at Fox Lake were held.

Three of the more seriously injured—Carl Groh, Merrill Mock, 15, and Mrs. Irene Dorr, organist—were still patients in the McHenry Hospital on Tuesday. Clyde Morris, with burns and broken ribs, was an out-patient, as was Mrs. Leslie Magnusson. About twenty other people received first aid.

The explosion, believed to be from a leaking gas main outside the building, ripped through the church Sunday morning immediately after Sunday school classes.

Services of the church will be held next Sunday in the Lotus School, it was announced by Mrs. John Dall.

Who's Underprivileged?

Some people just can't leave well enough alone.

Fighting for equal rights for women is O.K. Of course, one of these days it's going to backfire and men will start fighting for equal rights, but so far they've been pretty slow at catching on to the idea.

Now along comes a woman complaining because women aren't allowed to work enough hours a day.

Women, says Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, of Chicago, are handicapped in competing with men at the executive level because they aren't allowed to put in as many hours as men can.

What's more, Mrs. Zinser intends to carry her fight for equal rights to the Illinois State Legislature at the January session. She will be aided and abetted by a group of women executives who feel underprivileged because they are only allowed to work eight hours a day—legally, that is.

Sometimes we just don't realize we're underprivileged till it's pointed out to us.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

As senior member of the Lake County Board of Supervisors in point of service Deerfield Supervisor Emmett Moroney intoned, "I move you that this adjourned annual September, 1962 meeting be adjourned until Wednesday, January 9 at 9 o'clock a.m." and thus closed out a career of more than 25 years as a member of the county's governing body.

The adjournment ritual, a monthly responsibility of the senior board member, brought to a close a meeting that was climaxed with a wave of congratulations for the veteran Highland Park representative who has set his retirement for Dec. 31.

Political allies and political foes alike crowded around the crusty Irishman to wish him well and to wipe out the little animosities that are the lot of strong-willed and aggressive men in every walk of life.

Through more than a quarter of a century of county board leadership Moroney had had his political ups-and-downs, but a sometimes dry and sometimes biting wit had kept political opponents from turning board opposition to personal animosity.

As he closed out his career Emmett could look back on a record that included four terms as chairman of the county board, five years as chairman of the Board of Review, and a series of vital chairmanships.

Attached to that record was a history of accomplishment based on a deep love for and pride in this County of Lake, an abiding faith in the people of the county, and a strong determination to do what he considered right and essential for the county.

There may be no marble monuments raised in Moroney's honor, but there will be warm memories and gratitude in those who have had the pleasure and honor of working with him.

Of course Moroney if he didn't leave behind him a few things for his former colleagues to hassle and fight over so he said farewell with a tidy list of suggestions for things he considered important for the board to take up in future sessions.

The list included a recommendation that the Public Building Commission, now composed solely of board members, be doubled to include leading laymen of the county who would work with and advise the supervisors in their efforts to construct a new county building.

A chain of command for the sheriff's office with ranks based on experience and ability and commensurate pay was a recommended task for the judiciary committee and the chairman was urged to make the fullest possible use of the varied talents represented on the county board without regard to current political alignment.

Moroney suggested a committee make an evaluation of jobs and salaries of county employees and suggested formation of an employees' bargaining committee to meet with the Finance Committee when it comes time to set salaries.

Promotion of legislation that would limit the sale of liquor to taverns and liquor stores and take it out of the drug stores and supermarkets was recommended as an aid in the battle against sales of liquor to minors.

"We should never be satisfied that our county home and county hospital are perfect, but should strive constantly to make them better and should engage specialists who could make frequent objective studies of their operations to insure the best possible care for our sick and aged," Moroney recommended.

The duties of the finance officer should be expanded so that he could serve as an informed adviser to the finance committee and would have authority to invest idle county funds without always waiting for board approval.

And last of all, Moroney urged an armistice to the petty differences and personality clashes that force the board into two camps and hamper its operations.

Many of these recommendations had been fought over the years by Moroney, but, like the gods, the supervisors sometimes work slowly their wonders to perform.

The supervisors were furnished with plenty of reading material at Monday's meeting with the presentation of a new year end report prepared for former Sheriff Norris Froelich by Deputy Stanley Schabowicz, an expert statistician.

The supervisors were also provided with a printed newsletter by the Lake County Regional Planning Commission and the Lake County Highway News, a small newspaper type publication designed to keep them up to date on highway developments in the county.

The compensation of the town assessor cannot be increased or decreased during his term of office but the amount of his expenses may be changed by the Board of Town Auditors, Attorney General William G. Clark has held in an opinion given to State's Attorney H. Carroll Bayler of Clay county.

Seek Homes For Kids

The Chicago office of the Illinois Division on Children cared for 32% more children in 1962 than in any previous year.

Miss Buck, Acting Director, said there was an increase in referrals from all the Region's counties, including Cook, DuPage, Lake and Will.

The agency was asked to help more than 150 homeless boys and girls, most of whom had already reached school age before their own homes broke down.

"It is difficult to cite a typical reason for a child's loss of his own home," said Miss Buck, "Each family's story differs from another's; but a tragic event can literally change a child's life overnight."

Less than a year ago Christmas for Edward, age 13, Timothy, 11 and their sister, Joan, age 9½ was the high point of family activities and excitement, much the same as for other kids in their block.

Suddenly in May 1962, their mother died in child birth. No relatives were close by, and the father took them to a grandmother in New Hampshire.

However, the grandmother fell ill within two months and the father had to rush East to get his children. Enroute back to Chicago he collapsed due to a heart attack and was removed from the train to a hospital in Ohio. This left the children stranded.

Welfare authorities rallied to their aid and escorted them to Chicago where local authorities stood by with hastily made plans for their emergency placement in a

MY OLE GRANDPAPPY USED TO SAY!

By the Rev. Fr. Edmund E. Hood

There are men who would complain that the wind were in the wrong direction if it were raining money.

What Grandpappy would have said about Fidel Castro: Cut off a rooster's spurs, and you take the italics all out of his crow!

Some people pray for dying grace, when what they need is grace to make them live within their means and pay their honest debts.

It takes real keen eyesight to see the Devil through a pile of money.

Seek Nominees for Mental Health Work

In anticipation of its tenth annual meeting in January, the Lake County Mental Health Society has invited the public to submit names of persons who might qualify as recipients of the Society's annual Mental Health Awards.

Suggestions should be mailed to the Mental Health Awards Committee, Lake County Mental Health Society, 32 N. Utica St., Waukegan.

Rev. Ralph J. Smith, awards committee chairman, for the Society, announced that selection committees are being organized in several Lake County communities, and that any nominations for awards will be forwarded to the appropriate committee.

An award nominee might be either a prominent citizen in a particular community, or someone remote from public life but close to those whom he helps, Smith pointed out. "Whoever he is, he understands mental health needs, and does something to meet them."

Twelve Lake County citizens received Mental Health Awards presented by Gov. Otto Kerner at last year's annual meeting of the Lake County Mental Health Society. Smith expects that a similar number will be recognized in January.

Dec. 10, 1962

Dear Editor: After the accident in Fox Lake last Sunday in which 25 people required hospitalization our need for a hospital has become more real than ever before.

Let's hope that something like this will not be needed in our village to arouse the desire of our local citizenry.

We commend your paper for the stand it has taken against the tavern owners violating the under age drinking laws and we would commend you further if your efforts could be directed toward a local hospital program.

Your Governor Reports by OTTO KERNER

Governors and various representatives of 12 states assembled in Chicago Wednesday, for the first annual meeting of the Midwest Governor's Conference which will continue through Friday.

The conference was organized to foster regional development, attain greater efficiency in state administration, facilitate interstate cooperation and improve inter-governmental relationships, and to provide a medium for the exchange of views and experiences on subjects of general importance to the people of the Midwestern states.

The states involved are Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Much can be done for a particular state through cooperation with sister states. Illinois has always sought such cooperation and been willing to give it gladly.

One of the most important items on the agenda of the Midwestern Governors' Conference is economic expansion and foreign trade. Illinois will be a prime participant in this area as we already have initiated programs in these areas and have given it high priority.

Prior to this conference, Illinois met with sister states in Chicago in our quest for a greater share of this nation's defense spending. The meeting was another step on the road towards bettering our state's strength in the area of research and development pertinent to the giant space and science programs of our country.

Illinois and the Midwest have been slipping in the allotment of defense contracts at the expense of other areas of the nation and our mission is to restore the state and the area to its former position of strength.

Already there are signs of progress in this regard but a great deal remains to be done in this area of vital importance to the economy of our state. The Midwestern Governors' Conference will find Illinois an active participant, for I will leave no stone unturned, no avenue unexplored, for the betterment of our state, in the area of economic expansion and foreign trade, or any other area which holds promise for a better tomorrow.

Brighten Mail With Xmas Seals and Fight TB

Every 50 minutes someone dies of a single respiratory disease, tuberculosis. TB is a disease that could be wiped out if every active case could be found and treated. Powerful drugs are now available that stop TB germs from growing.

But 250,000 Americans still have active tuberculosis. And 100,000 of them may not know it. They are not getting treatment and may even be walking around infecting others.

In an effort to find these unknown cases the Lake County Tuberculosis Association carries on a year round detection program. Free chest x-rays are given on the Mobile Unit which visits schools, industries, communities, nursing homes, hospitals and other locations. Last year 42,000 x-rays were taken in Lake County by the Mobile Unit.

The Tuberculin Skin Testing Program is carried on in every school in the county, where it is offered to every first grader, freshman, and student new in our county. Last 18,600 persons received the test without charge.

Free health education material is distributed to schools, industries, doctors' offices, and individuals.

Medical research into better treatment, detection, and control of TB is constantly being conducted. Lake County Tuberculosis Association is the purchase of Christmas Seals by residents of the county. Please answer your Christmas Seal letter today; your contribution in the fight against TB is the best bargain you can get.

Elderly Deaf Refuse Aid

A Northern Illinois University audiologist has completed a study to find out why many hard-of-hearing persons refuse therapy.

Dr. Jerome Alpiner tested elderly individuals in a Golden Age Center and two homes for the aged in Cleveland. He found about 60 per cent had some degree of hearing loss.

A fourth of those refused therapy which might have helped them overcome their handicap.

Alpiner found that the majority of those who refused therapy had some degree of chronic brain disease resulting from degeneration of brain cells.

This group, he reported, appeared to lack motivation to engage in therapy. Some felt they had no problem, others expressed an attitude of depression—they felt that they were going to die soon and that they were too old to be bothered. A third group admitted having a hearing problem, but did not feel that they needed therapy.

Alpiner recommended procedures for handling the group with chronic brain disease.

He outlined the following procedures for handling the group with chronic brain disease.

He outlined the following intensive program of rehabilitation:

- Intensive counseling on the limitations of amplification.
- Extensive auditory training before selection of a hearing aid.
- Counseling on benefits of speech reading.
- Provision for a communicative atmosphere.
- In-service training for all who work with elderly hard-of-hearing.
- Utilization of caseworkers, social workers, physicians, speech pathologists and psychologists.

Side Street Or Expressway? Which Is More Dangerous?

So you think the quiet residential street in front of your home is safer than the expressway you drive to work? The truth is just the opposite, according to a revealing article in the autumn issue of Home & Highway, policyholder magazine of the Allstate Insurance Companies.

The article points to local streets as the most dangerous type of city roadway. The fatal accident rate on Chicago's local streets in a recent year was 4.7 accidents per 100 million vehicle miles of travel, nearly three times as high as expressways. Local streets were the scene of six times as many nonfatal accidents as on expressways, according to the article.

Written for Home & Highway by Hal Higdon, the safety story shows high speed and heavy traffic are not necessarily the only factors contributing to accidents. Plain complacency plays an even larger part.

Which part of the local street is most dangerous? Higdon reports intersections where local traffic must cross or enter arterial streets account for one of every four Chicago accidents. Another dangerous area is the intersection with no traffic control system where motorists fight for their "right-of-way" against other drivers.

Other hazards of side streets include blind intersections, dense parking, narrow streets and children at play. On expressways, these hazards have been engineered out of the traffic picture. Arterial streets have reduced most of them to acceptable levels, reports the author.

The Allstate article tells how traffic engineers have found patterns of danger by charting accidents within a city. For example, side streets next to heavily-traveled arterial streets often have high accident rates because many drivers attempt to escape the congestion by shifting to parallel local roads.

Safety experts recognize the value of discouraging this practice and the habit of seeking short cuts through residential areas by designing curved streets, T-intersections and dead ends into new developments. These help keep through traffic out of the residential community because they require slow speeds and frequent stops.

The article offers seven hints to make side street driving safer:

1. Use special care when backing out of a driveway to make sure no child is behind the car.
2. Slow down near parked cars. Drive near center of street when possible to get more maneuvering room.
3. Reduce speed when you see children ahead. Be ready to stop quickly.
4. Do not trust one-way streets. Keep alert for oncoming cars.
5. Beware of blind intersections. When vision is reduced, slow down before reaching the corner.
6. When practical, cross a major arterial street on another arterial street so that traffic signals can help you.
7. Always use arterial streets in preference to side streets. Although more busy, they are designed for greater safety and can carry more vehicles longer distances efficiently.

The Allstate feature concludes with the reminder to stay alert and recognize the dangers imposed by alleys, delivery trucks, pedestrians, parked cars, bikes and children at play.

Honor Oldest Past Potentate

Col. Christopher Van Deventer, 79, oldest living past Potentate of Medinah Temple, will be honored Friday night, December 7, at the Winter initiation in Medinah Temple, 600 N. Wabash Ave., at which a large number of residents of this area will be included among those crossing the "hot sands" to become full-fledged Shriners.

Col. Van Deventer headed the local temple in 1920 after his return from World War I, where he served as head of operations and personnel for the Corps of Engineers in France. After the Armistice he was one of the group which organized the American Legion at the historic meeting in Paris in 1919.

Masonically, he is a 50-year member of virtually every body, including the 33rd degree, which was conferred on him in 1912. He joined the fraternity in 1905 as a member of Woodlawn Park Lodge, now Auburn Park Lodge, Ancient Free & Accepted Masons.

Allergy Relief For Good Night's Sleep

QUIET... say fever victims sleeping. A Pollen-Ex air purifier is removing ragweed and other airborne pollen from the bedroom to enable this child to get a good night's sleep. The heavy pollen months of August and September used to cause sleepless nights from sneezing, coughing and wheezing.

A medical study made under home conditions, just completed by Dr. Morton B. Andelman, of the Chicago Board of Health, shows that an effective air purifier will give hay fever and asthma sufferers the opportunity for a good night's sleep.

The study surveyed and examined 2,281 allergy persons who were using a Pollen-Ex air purifier in their home. Of this number, 98 per cent said the air purifier helped them. The results were presented in a scientific exhibit at a national meeting of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Andelman's study was made to determine if the air purifier would be as effective in the home as in the hospital. Previous research under hospital conditions showed that the air purifier removed 97 to 98 per cent of pollen from the air in allergy treatment rooms.

There will also be discussion of arrangements for a more permanent location for the church.

There are 77,000,000 Americans who wear eye glasses and 6,500,000 who wear contact lenses according to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Assisting William Trubeck, current head of the 23,000 Shriners in the Chicago area in the tribute to Col. Van Deventer will be members of the National Sojourners, a patriotic world wide organization of Masonic active and former officers.

Col. Van Deventer served as head of the Chicago chapter in 1922-23 and at that time instituted a historic degree, known as "Heroes of '76", which like National Sojourners, now has chapters in nearly every military post throughout the world.

Local Enforcement Big Need, Says Carpenter

Macomb, Ill.—Stressing the importance of local government in the state's traffic safety program, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter reminded police magistrates and justices of the peace that failure to report convictions for moving traffic violations to his office is an omission of duty under the law.

In a talk before a Traffic Court Conference at Western Illinois University recently, Mr. Carpenter declared that "Squarely upon the shoulders of the courts rests the responsibility for identifying the dangerous and borderline drivers so the state may either take them off the road or seek to improve their driving habits."

"We at the state level must depend upon you at the local level for strict, but fair, traffic law enforcement; for stern, but fair, court judgments, and conviction reports if our efforts to reduce traffic deaths are to be successful," Secretary Carpenter said.

It is also the duty of local law enforcement agencies to make certain that persons whose licenses have been revoked or suspended, do not continue to drive, Mr. Carpenter said.

"We do not stop with merely entering the suspension or revocation on a driver's record and notifying him that he shall not drive," he said. "We also send that information to the police chief of his home town, to the sheriff and state's attorney of his home county, to the state police in his district and to the newspapers in the area."

"We intend that our revocations and suspensions of driver licenses shall mean precisely what they say—stop driving!" Secretary Carpenter declared. "The people who live in the same neighborhood with the town drunk or the teen-age hot-rodder who can't seem to turn a corner on more than two wheels, people who have small children or elderly parents living with them—they have good reason to wonder about law enforcement when they see those two potential killers still driving after the local newspaper has carried the story that their licenses have been revoked."

"You have done your part by reporting their convictions to us, we have done our part by revoking their licenses and notifying local authorities; it then becomes incumbent upon those local enforcement officials to see to it that what you have done, what the Secretary of State's office has done, has not been in vain," Mr. Carpenter said.

Home For Soldier's Widows Will Close

Plans for the closing of the Soldiers' Widows' Home at Wilmington and transfer of its residents to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Quincy have been announced by Dr. Francis J. Gerty, director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health.

Business operations at the Soldiers' Widows' Home will be terminated by March 1, 1963, Dr. Gerty said. "Since the comfort and safety of the residents are our primary concern, all plans for the transfer will be carefully worked out in advance," he said.

WHO, ME?

"There are not nearly enough people around these days who—when they should—can say 'I have made a mistake' and take full responsibility for it."

"It is not enough to admit error if one invariably seeks to place the blame elsewhere... The individual who can't admit his failings and bear the burden of them is hardly a mature, responsible member of a free society. He is trying to get by on a pass."

Looks out for you

Severe Storm Warning

Violent windstorms cause untold property damage and loss of life every year. To protect your family and your property, the Sentry Safety Council of Hardware Mutuals—Sentry Life Insurance group has compiled this list of things to do before the storm hits:

- Keep your radio or television tuned to latest Weather Bureau warnings; if power fails, use transistor or car radios.
- In the case of hurricanes, get away from low-lying beaches and areas likely to be deluged by high tides.
- When a tornado is approaching, hurry into the nearest underground excavation, basement, ditch or ravine.
- Stow away all loose objects—furniture, garbage cans, tools—that may be swept away, becoming lethal missiles to anything they may hit.
- Awnings should be raised and securely fastened or removed.
- Board up windows, or put storm shutters and doors on.
- Close and lock garage doors.
- To equalize atmospheric pressure, open windows on the leeward side of building—the side opposite that from which the wind is coming.
- Ready storm wearing apparel.
- Have a flashlight available; avoid using oil lamps, candles.
- Have on hand extra food which requires no cooking or refrigeration; electric power will undoubtedly be off.
- Store an emergency supply of water in the bathtub; put milk and coffee in thermos bottles.
- Make sure your first-aid kit is complete.

Finally, the Sentry Safety Council says make sure the entire family is assembled or accounted for and KEEP CALM.

Extra Cookies For Veterans

A little flour, sugar, shortening, an oven and know-how will do more than make cookies. It will make hospitalized veterans feel that someone cares at Christmas.

When baking your Christmas cookies make a dozen or two and arrange to have them delivered to the Lake County Red Cross Chapter House in Waukegan Dec. 15.

"Youth in Red Cross" groups from many of Lake County's schools sponsor the "Home-made Cookies for Veterans" program each year. Last year more than 20,000 home made cookies were collected in Lake County, packed and distributed by the Red Cross groups.

Already boxes of cookies are stacked about the Chapter House, but Saturday, Dec. 15, will be the last day that cookies can be accepted.

One additional sheet of cookies will make you and a veteran happier.

The Women of the Moose held a meeting Thursday, December 6, at 8 p.m.

Jay Proeme, chairman of the Social Service Committee and her committee were in charge of the entertainment for the evening.

Jay first introduced her committee and then asked the Guides to escort her special guest into the Chapter-room. Her special guest was Mrs. Lasco who demonstrated how to make many different types of Christmas decorations, using different greens, ornaments, and candles.

The meeting was closed by the Senior Regent, Mrs. Seth Mark with 49 percent. Refreshments were served.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

THE STRICT MOTHER ... By Dr. Ernest Dichter, Pres. Institute for Motivational Research

Mothers who are unusually strict with their first babies are probably suffering from a common ailment we call postnatal "blues."

A study we recently completed on the emotional tendencies of new mothers shows that once removed from the protective care of hospital nurses and doctors who gave them comfort and advice, they are subject to a period of depression. The new mother, now on her own, is scared, bewildered and overcome by the great responsibility she faces.

The study found such a mother holds to rigid feeding schedules, forced and early toilet training, early weaning and no thumb sucking. She takes her responsibilities seriously and because she's anxious about them, she occasionally resents them. This causes her to feel guilty and believe she isn't doing her job right.

If you are a young mother or young mother-to-be, here are some pointers developed by baby care counselors of the diaper service industry:

1. Know what you're facing. You can't prepare for all emergencies, but you can eliminate a great deal of worry over trifles.

2. Attend pre-natal classes in your community.
3. If no such classes are available, then discuss your fears and worries with your doctor.

4. Don't try to learn everything about child care. Tackle each new problem as it arises.

5. First, find out what you have to know to keep your baby healthy and contented.
6. Don't wear yourself out with unnecessary chores. Do important things first.

7. Take advantage of all labor-saving services such as baby foods and diaper service.
8. Learn to budget your time so that you don't get that harassed feeling that time is running out.

9. Fit your work and leisure schedule into your baby's schedule. Cooking, cleaning and laundering should be done while baby naps.
10. Get plenty of rest. When you're tired and irritable, baby also will be fretful.

11. Take at least one nap while baby is asleep.
12. Use baby's feeding time to relax. Choose a comfortable chair and hold baby in your arms while you feed him.

Lions Work on Camp for Visually Handicapped

Walter J. Schroeder, 100 S. Elmhurst Ave., Mt. Prospect, was named co-chairman of the newly developed Lions Camp for Visually Handicapped, located at Lake Hastings in Lake Villa. Appointment was made by S. A. Harris, 221 Sheridan Rd., Winthrop Harbor, District Governor for Lions International 1 F and Morris M. Benzuly, 208 Lake Road, Ingleside, who is District Chairman for the Lions of Illinois Blind Activities Committee.

Facilities and equipment were made available in 1961 by the YMCA Camp Ravenswood and during that year 34 children were given one and two weeks vacations as a pilot experiment. During the summer of 1962, 221 children, some partially and others totally blind were enrolled in the camp. Counselors and counselors in training were high school and college students under the direction of a teacher from a Chicago military academy.

Many of the children learned to swim while at camp and others improved their skill at diving, swimming archery, trampolines or used special exercise equipment. Handicraft and campcraft were popular with young children and they were placed into proper age groups to get the most out of their brief camp life.

Mr. Schroeder feels that it is possible to accommodate over 300 handicapped children during the summer of 1963 and has outlined a program with Lions Clubs in this area to sponsor any handicapped person who is in need of assistance, and underwrite the expense for them. More than 114 Lions Clubs participated in these expense free vacations during 1962.

Mr. Benzuly has enlisted a crew of volunteers from local area Lions Clubs who are at work now winterizing the cottages and the main recreational club house. Cottages are being enlarged to make room for the expected increase in attendance as well as to conform with new building code regulations in effect for this area.

By Spring of 1963 the main recreational lodge will be weatherproofed and meetings of Lion groups will be held periodically to further acquaint all Lions Club members and their families with the advantages afforded Visually Handicapped persons.

Rules for Success

"These ten points on how to succeed are contained in an old paper yellowed with age, dating back to the last century:

1. Keep your body physically fit.
2. Train your mind. Study hard. Knowledge commands respect.
3. Choose a life work big enough to challenge your greatest efforts, but make it work you thoroughly enjoy.
4. Work hard. It may be necessary to trade your pocket watch for an alarm clock, but begin on time and do not be afraid of working until the job is done.
5. Guard your character. Keep above approach. Be a good moral risk.
6. Be big enough to consider the other fellow's point of view.
7. Be satisfied with nothing but your very best.
8. Be ambitious to serve others.
9. Choose companions who will stimulate you to greater heights.

10. Believe in yourself. "Such principles change very little from generation to generation. This creed, written by the generation that conquered a continent, still applies to the generation that has set about to conquer outer space."—Murphyboro Murmur.

"During the past three decades, a one-time obedient servant of the American people, the Federal government, has grown into a giant. This giant is fast becoming the master of its creators and whether we admit it or not, it was created through our own selfishness, greed, and ignorance. Like the tentacles of a giant octopus, bureaus, departments, agencies and commissions are slowly but surely imprisoning the American people."—Hampton, N. H., Gazette.

Heart News Beat

More can be done today than ever before to help the child with congenital heart defects and more is being done. Chicago is a world capital of surgical pioneering and skill in this field.

In general, congenital heart disease is little understood outside of the medical profession. Here, taken from the Heart Association's booklet, "101 Questions and Answers About Your Child's Heart and Your Own," are some of the basic facts about this problem:

Q. What is meant by congenital heart disease?
A. It is not really a disease, like pneumonia or rheumatic fever. It is a term applied to a number of defects of the heart with which children are sometimes born.

Q. Are all congenital heart malformations detectable at birth?

A. While they are all present at birth, quite a number give no symptoms until early childhood. In general, they are not dangerous to life and many of them can be corrected.

Q. What causes congenital heart defects?

A. Some apparently are the result of hereditary defects; others are believed to be caused by virus diseases in early pregnancy, especially German measles. Most often, medical leaders admit, we do not know the cause.

Q. Are the common contagious diseases of childhood dangerous to children with malformed hearts?

A. No, they usually survive these infections as well as other children.

Q. Are there any special precautions their parents should take?

A. They should receive penicillin or other antibiotics before dental extraction or tonsillectomy because of the danger of infection settling in the heart. This infection, bacterial endocarditis, is uncommon, but the proverbial ounce of prevention is important.

Q. Do people with congenital heart defects have shorter lives than those with normal hearts?

A. It varies with the nature and severity of the defect. Life expectancy is generally shorter, but many with abnormal hearts live long and active lives, and new surgical techniques have improved the outlook tremendously for some types of heart defects.

Q. Are special schools best for children with cardiac malformation?

A. Since it is important for these children to keep their lives as normal as possible, most of them can easily be adjusted to regular classes.

Q. What is the treatment for congenital heart defects?

A. Any really important results thus far have been accomplished entirely by surgery, and many thousands have been restored to normal function.

Q. What should be done for children with defects for which no operation is practical as yet?

A. This decision should be made by a physician. In general, it is not necessary to restrict them needlessly. Most will limit their own activity. Over-protection is a great mistake. They can generally be helped by graded exercises to develop muscular strength.

Q. Can girls with congenital heart defects marry and have children?

A. Thousands have. Each case is an individual matter and the doctor should be consulted on whether it is safe to have children.

Q. What is meant by "blue babies"?

A. A "blue baby" has a malformation of the heart that lets some of the blue blood, meant to go to the lungs, be pumped directly to the body. It imparts a bluish tinge to the skin and lips.

Q. Should all "blue babies" be operated on as quickly as possible?

A. No. So long as the baby is gaining weight and is bright and cheerful, operation may be deferred.

Xmas Seals Fight TB

Friday, December 7 was proclaimed "DO IT DAY" in Illinois, at which time everyone was urged to answer their Christmas Seal Letter. Although "DO IT DAY" was Friday, it is still not too late to send contributions to aid in the fight against TB. The Christmas Seals, which are the sole support of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association, provide many services for the residents of Lake County. Last year 42,000 chest x-rays were taken, without charge, on the Mobile Unit. The tuberculin skin testing program was conducted in almost 200 schools where 18,600 students received the test without charge. Free health education materials are distributed to schools, doctors' offices, and the general public. The Lake County Tuberculosis Association also participates in research, hoping to find better case-finding tools and better methods of treatment and control of TB.

An all-out effort has been made to reach every family in the county with Christmas Seals to use on their holiday mail. However, there may have been some omissions which are, of course, unintentional. A letter or telephone call to the Lake County Tuberculosis Association will have Christmas seals on their way to you. Cards are being mailed to remind the residents who received Seals to send contributions to the association. If you have already mailed your contribution please disregard this reminder.

"Star of Bethlehem" at Adler Museum

"The Star of Bethlehem" will be the timely subject of the lecture-demonstration at the Chicago Park District Adler Planetarium and Astronomical Museum during the month of December. This lecture, said Robert I. Johnson, planetarium director, is presented annually because of popular demand.

The skies of the Holy Land as they appeared at the time of the Nativity, and the known astronomical phenomena which took place then are demonstrated. The nature of these objects and events are explained and the lecturer will speculate as to which of them might have been interpreted as the Star.

Lecture - demonstrations, or shows, will be given at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Mondays through Fridays at 12:30, 2 and 3:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays; a special children's show will be presented each Saturday at 11 a.m. Evening shows will be given on Tuesdays and Fridays at 7:30 o'clock. Adler Planetarium and Astronomical Museum will be closed Christmas Day. Admission to the Museum is free at all times. Admission to the Planetarium Chamber where the shows are held is 50c for adults and 25c for children. Special school program demonstrations in the Planetarium Chamber are always free.

Tips For Safe Winter Driving

This is the perfect time for motorists to brush up on their winter driving habits, according to J. J. Cavanagh, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

He pointed out that drivers can do little to ease poor weather conditions, but that they can be prepared to do something about improving their winter driving skills.

"A winter changeover doesn't mean just adding antifreeze to your car radiator," Cavanagh said. "The changeover also should take place in the attitude of the driver himself."

Tests have proven that the exist when it is just cold enough for water to freeze. The braking distance on glare ice is twice as long with the temperature at 30 degrees than it is with a zero reading.

Cavanagh said it is easy for drivers to forget how slippery roads can get, and he noted that most skidding accidents occur in the pre-winter and early winter months because motorists are mentally unprepared for the need for greater driving caution.

He offered the following winter driving safety suggestions:

—Wet or slushy roads and streets, usually accompanied by early darkness, requires cautious driving at reduced speeds.

—Falling sleet or snow and splashes of wet snow from passing cars make it essential that windshield wipers and defrosters be in perfect working condition.

—During stormy weather, when visibility is at a premium, headlights—not parking lights—should be turned on as a warning to motorists and pedestrians.

—For emergency situations, a bucket of sand, salt or cinders, and a shovel always should be carried in the car trunk.

—Allow yourself more time to get to and from your destination.

Lake Forest Topples Ela Vernon 70 to 47

Lake Forest took over sole possession of the Northwest Suburban Conference Friday night as they easily rolled over Ela-Vernon 70-47 at Lake Zurich.

Craig Spitzer, Mark Welshinsky, Bill Seaborg and Elvie Ekdahl all hit in double figures for the Scouts, scoring 15, 12, 21 and 12 points respectively.

Ela-Vernon opened the contest by using control tactics but after trailing 11 to 5 at the end of the first quarter they went into a press. This proved even worse for the Bears as they ended the quarter on the bottom of a 30-15 tally.

The Bears managed to close the gap to 10 points midway in the third period but that was as close as they could come. The Scouts from Lake Forest exploded in the final stanza with 22 points to win going away 70-47.

Ill. Police Win Race With Death

Larry Probst, 19, of St. Paul, Minn., knows the Illinois State Police helped save him from possible death after he was bitten by his pet cobra.

What he does not know is that the governor of Illinois acted personally to help speed life-saving vaccine to his hospital bedside.

The incident occurred Nov. 13 when anti-venom serum for a cobra bite was not on hand in the St. Paul area. Hospital officials were told by a snake expert in Florida that such serum was available at the Lincoln Park Zoological Gardens in Chicago.

Ray Pawley, zoologist at the Gardens tried various means to get the anti-venom to St. Paul. He was unsuccessful. It was then that he placed a call to the Executive Mansion in Springfield and spoke to Gov. Otto Kerner. The Governor immediately ordered the State Police into action.

State Police in Chicago alerted Chicago police. A squad car raced to the zoo to pick up the vaccine. State Police, in the meantime, sought an airplane for the flight to St. Paul. A Northwest Orient Airlines plane, bound from Milwaukee to Minneapolis with 23 passengers aboard, was diverted to Chicago. The serum was flown to St. Paul by the Northwest plane where an ambulance waited for the final leg of the trip. Sometime after midnight, the serum was administered to Probst.

State Employees To Buy Savings Bonds

Governor Otto Kerner and Auditor of Public Accounts Michael J. Howlett at ceremonies in the Executive Offices at Springfield today, marked the official installation of the Pay Roll Savings plan for the purchase of Series E Savings Bonds by all State officers and employees as provided for in the Illinois Salary Withholding Act. This law was passed during the 72nd biennium and approved by Governor Kerner last year.

Governor Kerner said, "Series E and H bond holdings represent some 15% of the total national debt—a portion which is anti-inflationary, working to preserve the buying power of all our dollars. Money invested in savings bonds stays in the local community as a reserve buying power for the future—most of it to be spent for really important things or to be used in emergencies."

Both Governor Kerner and Auditor Howlett signed authorization cards, to be the first state officials to have allotments for Savings Bonds withheld from their individual salaries.

The employees of Auditor Howlett's department will be canvassed during the next two weeks for bond deductions, after which all other personnel employed with Departments and Agencies will be given the opportunity to sign up for U. S. Savings Bonds which in reality the "SHARES IN AMERICA."

GOVERNMENT

"Much is made from time to time over the redeeming factors of grass roots government, of having your neighbors sitting at the helm of local taxing bodies, zoning groups or even at the bar of justice.

"A person thus is able, says this school of thought, to have his request or problem decided on a personal basis. This is all true, too.

"It would then follow, using this school of logic, that the closest state of political perfection are village and township governments, local school boards, and zoning and planning commissions.

"But anyone who has been the victim of cruel, homespun chicanery knows the pangs of having an incompetent dog-catcher elevated to a seat of authority, and becoming a benevolent tyrant in meting out justice or ruling on important issues. The cold facts are that grass roots officials are prone to judge issues on a personal basis.

"The evidence they weigh is not the merits or evidence of a given case, but how did the guy making the request vote, what candidate did he support in the recent election, is he a trouble maker (they call him agitator) is he outspoken and is he a leader of the opposition?

"No political machine in a big city can be as ruthless as small-town dictatorship at its worst.

"There are exceptions, of course, but when a small town organization is powerful and bad, there are no limits to the extent it will go to destroy the opposition, to hold control of its machine."

Dickson Announces Start Of Soil Mapping Program

The Lake County Board of Supervisors and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service have approved an agreement for the soil mapping of the entire county. This was announced yesterday by Robert Dickson, Chairman of the County Board and Elmer Orfman, Soil Conservationist for Lake County. This project will be completed during the next four years. The soils information obtained will be useful to all land users, both urban and agricultural.

Orfman explained that there are 290,000 acres to be mapped in Lake County, and approximately 90,000 will have been mapped by the end of 1962, including the entire townships of Ela, Vernon, and Libertyville.

The schedule of mapping has not been completely developed, but the agreement calls for a mapping of about two townships a year. In addition to field mapping, the Soil Conservation Service will furnish copies of each year's mapping to the County Board, plus some interim information about soils.

The first request for township mapping was made in 1960 by John Quay, as Chairman of the Ela Area Planning Board; and

Antioch Victorious Over Warren Blue Devils

Sequoits Make Good on 32 of 49 Field Goal Attempts

A noisy, jubilant Sequoit basketball team had just filed into the locker following a stunning 78-61 victory over the Warren Blue Devils at Antioch Friday night.

"Not enough rebounding strength," a Blue Devil supporter was heard to say. "What rebounds?" his companion answered "they didn't miss any shots."

The Sequoits did miss a few shots, but only a few as they hit a sizzling 66.0 field goal percentage and 700 from the free throw line.

Going into the second quarter with a slim two point lead, the Sequoits began hitting with deadly accuracy from 20-25 feet out. By the time the buzzer sounded the end of the first half the Antioch preps had poured 21 points through the basket and rested on a comfortable 38-23 lead.

Warren rooters, in hopes the intermission would "cool off" the red hot Sequoits, were doomed to disappointment. The Antioch quint continued their purge on the nets in the third quarter to the tune of 18 points, while an aggressive man-to-man defense held a struggling Blue Devil squad to 8 counters.

The Blue Devils took advantage of a relaxed Sequoit defense in the fourth quarter and poured in 27 points to 22 for Antioch. It was a little too late, however, and Antioch left the court with their first conference victory of the season.

Kids Bowl In Jaycees Tourney

The Lakes Region Jaycees are sponsoring a tournament for Bantam and Junior League bowlers, to be held Dec. 22 and 29 at the Antioch Bowl.

Bowlers will be divided into three groups for the tournament—Bantams—12 years of age and under; Juniors, 13-15 years, and Seniors, 16-18 years.

The Junior and Senior groups may compete in both the singles and mixed doubles.

Twenty-two trophies will be awarded to high scoring bowlers by the Jaycees. In addition, high scores will be sent in to the American Junior Bowling Congress, where they will be eligible to compete in the national tournament.

The doubles competition will start at about 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, Dec. 22, with singles competition following.

The mixed doubles will start at about 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 29.

Any contestant wishing may enter the competition on a scratch basis. The obvious advantage of this, Janet Westhoff, secretary, pointed out, is that she (or he) will be competing against a much smaller group.

The Jaycees will furnish scorekeepers for the tournament.

ning and Vic Rogers with 11 and 8 respectively.

Coach Bruce Stahmer pointed to the strong work of Vic Rogers on the boards as a factor in the Antioch victory. Rogers grabbed off 15 rebounds in the contest.

Both the Varsity and Sophs squad are now 1-1 for conference play. The Sequoits are pointing to a double header this weekend as they journey to Fox Lake Friday for a contest with Grant and then to Zion Saturday for a non-conference tilt with Zion-Benton.

Grant is also resting on a 1 and 1 conference record. The Bulldogs upset a highly ranked Wauconda team two weeks ago and dropped a close one at Round Lake Friday.

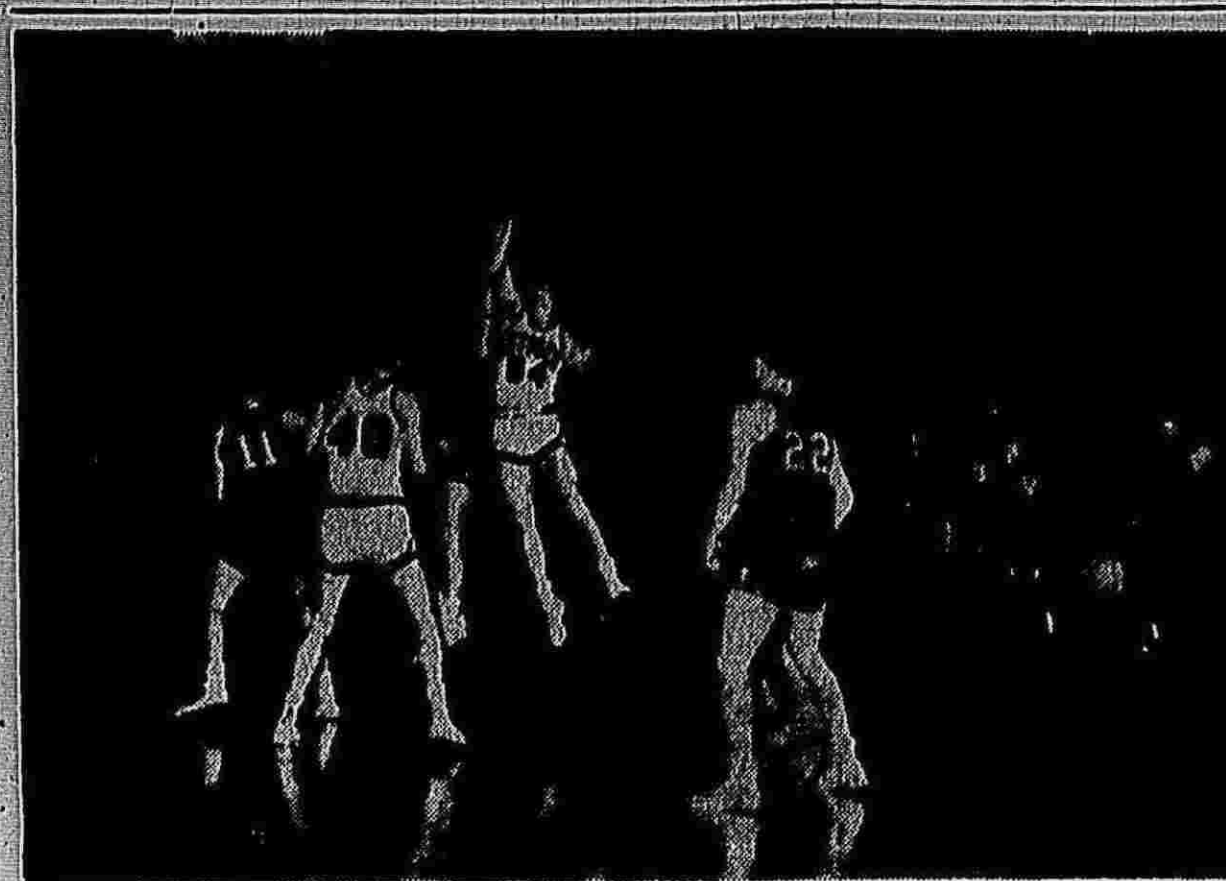

Coach Roger Andrews lauded John Lear for his defensive work in holding Bill Grom to a meager five points throughout the second and third quarter.

"It was a team effort," Andrews said, "and all the boys are to be commended for a fine job."

The Sequoits hit an amazing 32 shots out of 49 attempts from the field for 65%. Warren took 69 shots but cashed only 27 for 37%. Doug Lang led in the rebounding department for Antioch with 11 followed by John Hallwas with 9.

Bill Grom and John McClure led the losers in scoring with 18 and 19 points respectively.

The Antioch sophs made the evening a complete success by trouncing the Warren preps 53-35 in a curtain raiser. Bernie Smith led the scoring for Antioch with 19 points followed by Wally Hen-

DOUG LANG goes high in the air to snatch another rebound Friday night as the Sequoits rolled over Warren 78 to 61. Lang led the Sequoits in rebounding grabbing off eleven.

Sequoit Wrestlers Lose One and Win Another

Antioch High's exponents of the manly art of limb-twisting and neck-snapping vanquished their foes of the wrestling mat on Friday, December 7, by a decisive score of 32-12.

The Warren grunt-and-growlers were on home grounds, but Antioch's boys were too much for them.

Warren's Craig Murphy scored over Jerry Bergh in the 95 lb. class; in the 103 lb. class, John Kioszk was bested by Warren's Ron Florio; at 112 lbs. Ray Sheppard of Antioch pinned Vic Taylor; at 120 lbs., Dave Miller scored over Gary Murphy; Rick Prossie downed Dave Potter, 133 lbs.; Dave White lost to Russ Schneider, 138 lbs.; 145 lb. Wauconda Downs Rams Marv Rooney's Wauconda Bulldogs looked like their pre-season predictions Friday night as they toppled Grayslake 68 to 55. Playing at Grayslake, Don Miller and Mike Freund dumped in 24 points each to lead the victors.

The win marked the first in conference play for the Bulldogs and matches them with five other conference teams, all with one and one records.

Grayslake jumped off to an early 13 to 2 lead but saw it whittled down to 17 to 14 by the first quarter mark. Wauconda continued to hit the mark in the second quarter and pulled into a 36-32 halftime lead.

The Bulldogs dominated play throughout the second half, outpointing an erratic Ram offense 16-13 and 16-10, in the third and fourth quarters.

Bowler of The Week

At Reckers, bowling on Klass's team in the Monday Nite Owl League, started off the evening with ten straight strikes. The eleventh ball he threw went Brooklyn and left one pin standing to spoil his chance for a perfect score.

AI picked it up for a 289 game, and finished the evening with sets of 201 and 208, for a total of 697.

The 289 game is high league game for the Antioch Alleys this year.

College Scouts Eye Sequoit's Kubicki

One of Antioch's basketball stars has drawn the attention of the Big Leaguers. Quoting from "Littering the High Notes" in Sunday's Chicago Sun-Times, "College basketball scouts are making it their business to see Antioch's Robert Kubicki in action. The 6-foot senior is averaging 20 points a game."

Jr., Bantam Bowling

High scorers in the Junior Bowling league last week were John Jedele with 170, 210 and 165 for a 545 series; Ricky Ripley with 202, 197 (he started the game with five straight strikes) and 132, for a 531; Barbara Casella with 188, 178 and 149 for 515 and Wayne Slagle with 139, 167 and 188 for 494.

High games in the Bantam league were Carol Westlund's 157 and Mark Larson's 160.

CONFUSION IN PROGRESS—DON'T DISTURB

Art Frisell and Les (Pierre the trapper) Chin are up to something new, but they are not telling what it is. Les showed up at Ed Sorenson's Bait Foundry one evening with three sets of mink fingernails. They could have been toenails, later on, Art made the scene with even more sets of mink fingernails (they could have been toenails) which he had trapped.

So, this scribe canvassed all the important style centers and style makers in an effort to learn whether mink fingernails (it could be toenails) are going to be worn by mink, instead of mink—no dice. C'mon guys, what's up?

Those loud screams of anguish coming from the marsh is none other than those mink who have lost their fingernails (or maybe toenails) and can't scratch their fleas.

Warning to person or persons who are filching Chin's traps! He'll bite you to death if he catches you at it.

PROFOUND THOUGHTS—Wonder what it's like in front of the eight ball?

The ice fishing season opened officially last Sunday and Rudy reports that some bluegills are biting, to which one unlucky angler replied: "They must be biting each other—I've barely caught enough to smell up the frying pan."

Falcons Lose to St. Mary's But Win at Palmyra, 53 to 41

The Salem Falcons lost a heart breaker last Tuesday, Dec. 4, to St. Mary's 51-49, but came back strong Friday to win decisively over Palmyra 53 to 41 at Palmyra.

Tuesday's action saw the Falcons leading 40-48 with 20 seconds to play. Attempting to control the ball the Falcons lost it out of bounds and St. Mary's came back to score on a three point play, basket and a free throw, to win in the closing seconds 51-49.

Central put up a strong first quarter defense again Friday and held Palmyra to a meager 3 points while they took the lead 10 to 3 at that point.

The Falcons continued to dominate the play and stretched their lead to 27-13 at half time and 41 to 23 by the third quarter mark.

The Salem quint out-pointed their opponents 20 baskets to 11 from the field but fell down at the free throw line. The Panthers cashed 19 out of 30 to 13 of 25 for Salem.

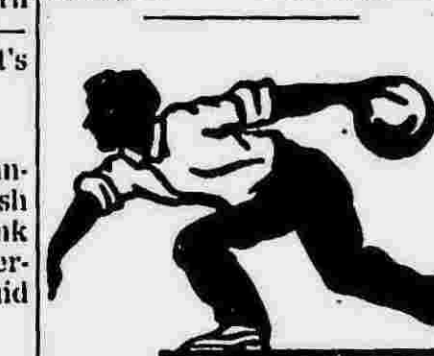

Salem comes home Friday to meet Clinton in a must game for both teams.

Clinton is on top of the Southeast conference with a 4-0 record while Salem trails in second place with 3 wins against 1 loss.

We Wish You A Merry? Christmas— And A Happy New Year?

By the Rev. Edmond E. Hood
J'ACCUSE!

A solemn lament in four parts, composed upon the passing of the seasons of Advent and Christmas.

Christians of the world unite! That most sinister of seasons is almost upon us! Take Care! The dread plague that drains the purse, and changes formerly fat and substantial bank and savings accounts into mere shadows of their former glories, is about to make another one of its fatal visitations.

What is this strange and terrifying malady which compels normally thrifty individuals to plunge headlong into reckless abandon into debts of such staggering proportions that they would cause even J. P. Morgan to pale? It is Christmas! No more hideous combination of words exists in the entire English Language, nor can be framed by human tongue than "Christmas is coming!"

The American public probably holds the unique distinction of being the only people upon the face of God's little green earth, who possess the uncanny and dubious ability to take a perfectly normal feast of the Christian year, and twist and pervert it into a rather ghastly caricature of the original article.

How is Christmas celebrated by Mr. John Doe, American today? "O murder most foul, as in the best it is!" For no sooner has the feast of Thanksgiving passed forever into the annals of history with a lusty belch and an abdominal rumble, than the push is on!

Merchants, operating under Darwin's theory of the survival of the fittest, gaily festoon their shops with all the traditional symbols of the Christmas Season. The late, and unlamented, turkey is promptly deposed by a jolly fat little man in a red costume who is clearly (except to those unfortunates who are not devotees of Dr. Kildare) suffering from hypertension, and is probably a potential coronary victim. Signs proclaiming "Noel," "Merry Christmas," and "Season's Greetings," are disgustingly evident to the already ulcer ridden, financially over extended, and probably by this time, neurotic Mr. Doe.

This, of course, mind you, all takes place before the left-overs from the Thanksgiving turkey in the refrigerator have become sufficiently chilled to be reduced to Turkey-a-la-King, and so pass the way of all flesh!

From Radio and TV Land, his pathetic ears are under constant and determined attack by Carols, Christmas readings, and "other selected goodies for the entire family." He is subtly reminded that unless he possesses the God-given intelligence to purchase one of Mother Fletcher's solid nickel-plated toasters, selling for the ridiculous price of just $29.95, his favorite Aunt, Minnie, may never speak to him again.

He is badgered by wife and children into getting out and buying the tree "before they're all picked over," and which, they insist, must be properly installed and flawlessly decorated at least a week before the actual date.

Then comes the real creeping horror. The inevitable round of "Christmas Parties" begin, both office and social. Gifts have to be wrapped, cards mailed, the social functions at the church and school must be attended to. The children loudly insist upon being taken to see Santa "claws" at the local department store in order to present their preposterous petitions. O Happy, Joyous, and Blessed Yuletide!

But what of the actual day? What of this event toward which he has been so painfully moving and expending his vital energies so freely? Anticlimax! And what an anticlimax! It assumes a stature so gigantic as to dwarf that felt by every Republican when the Chicago Tribune so confidently foretold a thumping victory for Thomas E. Dewey over Harry S. Truman.

Let us assume it is now late evening of the 25th of December, Christmas Day. Our hero slumps in his favorite chair before the half dead fire. His shoes have long since been discarded as instruments of incredible torture. His Christmas tie, the one with the orange checks and purple spots, and presented only this morning by cousin Margaret, hangs loose at his throat. Thank God he can remove it soon, for he secretly regards it as an absolute abomination. But he must wear it for awhile yet. After all, Margaret is his wife's only cousin. His wife, long since hoarse from shouting at the children, has collapsed on the sofa, and has fallen into the merciful oblivion of exhausted sleep.

Time to take inventory. He surveys the wreckage that he once referred to as home. The tree stands in the far corner of the room at a perilous angle, looking for all the world like something no self-respecting cat would ever entertain the thought of dragging in. As far as the eye can see, the house is magnificently cluttered with mountains of discarded wrappings, crushed boxes, dirty glasses and plates, broken toys, and ashtrays heaped high with stale and odoriferous butts.

And for what? His thoughts turn inward. What has Christmas done for him? Well, for one thing, the parties have probably damaged his liver beyond any powers of regeneration. His nerves are completely shot, and his vocal cords roughly resemble the sounds produced by an over-taut banjo string from his excessive smoking. In fact, one might say that thanks to this most joyous of seasons, he is a complete and utter physical wreck.

He painfully rises from his chair and wobbles to the man-

tepiece where he stares transfixed into the mirror surmounting it. There, leaning back at him, is the most fearful hollow-eyed specter that ever threatened to totter on reason. Not since the ghost of Hamlet's father stalked the battlements of Elsinore, has the world seen such a dreadful apparition.

So much for him. What about the effects of the day upon the family? The usual fights, the usual complaints, the usual vocally expressed disappointments over gifts chosen. His only regret is Uncle Jim. Even in the spirit of good clean fun, he shouldn't have given him that bottle of hormone pills. He probably, in this one innocent moment of caprice, has permanently alienated Uncle Jim's affections. Oh, well, never liked the old codger anyway. Always smoking those smelly cigars and puffing the smoke in one's face. Of his God, his Creator, of his Blessed Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, born of a Virgin upon this holiest of nights, nothing has entered his mind. His only thoughts concerning God are vaguely connected with those of thanksgiving that the entire affair is over, and it won't have to be faced for another year.

At the time when the celebration of Christmas should just be beginning, for him (as it is for untold thousands of Americans) it is ended. Tomorrow, when he goes to the office, people who shout "Merry Christmas, friend!" will be about as scarce as a red-hot Communist in the John Birch Society. After all, who ever heard of making much of Christmas after December 25th? Why, it would be positively un-American! He never pauses to think that singing about the twelve days of Christmas during Advent makes about as much good sense as a soloist singing "I Love Life, and I want to Live!" at an Undertakers, Embalmers and Pallbearers Glee Club Session.

With most Americans, our hero, Mr. Doe, will spend the time after December 25th resting and recuperating for the New Year's celebrations to come. What a tragedy. From the table radio by his chair float the strains: "God rest ye merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay."

His old hornia incision aches miserably from totting all those packages and cards to the post office. He shifts his position to ease the pain. He endeavors to take further inventory, but sleep will not be cheated of her just due. The last thought before sleep gently pulled down the curtains of our hero's eyes? "Maybe old Scrooge was on the right track after all!"

Stock Exchange by NI-Gas Extended

Northern Illinois Gas Company today announced that 94% of the shares of Allied Gas Company common stock had been tendered for exchange for Northern Illinois Gas 5% convertible preferred stock.

Charles F. Hennessy, vice president of Northern Illinois Gas, said that the exchange offer, made Nov. 1, was therefore effective. A minimum of 80% had been specified as a condition of the offer.

Hennessy also said that the exchange offer, which would have expired on Dec. 3, would be kept open until Dec. 24, 1962, for the convenience of stockholders who were not able to make the exchange within the original time limit. The exchange ratio is one share of Northern Illinois Gas 5% convertible preferred stock for each four shares of Allied Gas common stock.

Holiday Food Buying Moves Into High Gear

CHICAGO — The holiday turkey run is on, volume movement into supply channels demoralizing markets and causing retail prices to break sharply to lower promotional levels. Retail egg prices drop, too, on greater volume that sags supply costs.

Pork lines hold a prevailing value position for another week as the top meat bargain buy, followed by some beef cuts that are better consumer incentives based on colder weather factors and changing demands. Lamb values remain relatively limited.

The University of Illinois consumer service consensus value list for the marketing period ending Dec. 15, signals these bargains:

Meats—Beef chuck roasts, stew beef, round steaks, pork loin, roasts, chops, picnic, bacon, smoked butts, lamb shoulder roasts and steaks; onions, potatoes, lettuce, radishes and carrots.

Antioch Gives $570 To Heart Fund

Doctor Jules H. Last, President of the Heart Council of Lake County, announced earlier this week the appointment of Millard Grauer, Highland Park, as the 1963 Lake County Heart Fund Chairman.

Accepting his second Heart Fund Chairmanship, Grauer said "his success last year was due in large part to each and every community in Lake County meeting its responsibility in Heart Disease Control."

Antioch's contributions to Heart Research, Education and Service totaled $570 in 1962.

When fogs closes in, good drivers are extra alert, says the Chicago Motor Club. Normal driving speeds are out of the question when normal visibility is lacking. Heavy ground fog, a common autumn occurrence, call for the most careful kind of driving.

CHEVROLET...on the road every day!

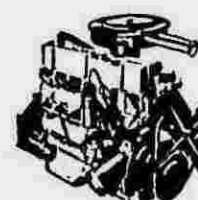

ITS RELIABILITY COMES FROM ITS QUALITY

A nutshell description of Chevrolet trucks could be "Trucks That Work". It's not exactly earthshaking but it says a mouthful. It's what Chevrolet trucks are best known for—their reliability. Ready to work, day after day, whenever you are.

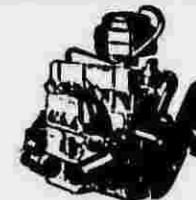

You can't build trucks that perform like this if you don't put quality into engine, chassis and body. Chevrolet does: double-wall construction, insulated cab, select-wood body floor, chain-supported tailgate, ladder-type frame, the careful attention to upholstery and finish. It's this kind of quality that makes any Chevrolet truck—from pickup to heavyweight tandem—worth more on the average at trade-in!

Antioch Grade Pupils Letters

Third graders at the Antioch Grade School were asked to write on the subject, "If I had $100 for Christmas." Here are some of the themes submitted to Mrs. Wanda Barthel, third grade teacher, by her pupils:

It would be nice if we could all get as much mileage from $100 as these kids did. Or expect to.

If I had a $100 to spend for Christmas I would spend it for my mom and dad. Do you know why? They spend there money on buying clothes for us. So I would buy them the biggest present you ever saw. Sandra Smith

If I had $100 to spend for Christmas, I would buy presents for all the children in the class room. Even for Mrs. Barthel and everybody in my family. Sandra Lubkeman

If I had $100 to spend for Christmas I would buy a car. And I would buy a Christmas tree. And I would buy a home and a pony. Jerry Williams

If I had $100 to spend for Christmas I would go to the store and buy presents for my family. And presents for my Grandmother and my Grandfather Albano. And my Grandmother and Grandfather Grasey, aunts and uncles. Linda Albano

If I had $100 to spend for Christmas I would buy a Ken doll for my sister, and a Christmas tree for our family. I would buy a car for my dad, a dress and a pair of shoes for my mother, a coat for my grandmother, milk bones for my dog. I would buy a poem book for me. Debra Herbert

If I had $100 to spend for Christmas I would buy a pony and move to a farm. And I would buy everything a pony needs. Also I would save some and use it to go to college. I would get a degree and learn how to be a cowgirl. Barbara Polsgrove

If I had $100 to spend for Christmas I would spend $30 for my father insurance, and $10 for a wreath, a $ for a model helicopter, so I could save $59 for college. Kevin Lyons

If I had $100 to spend for Christmas, I would go and put it away in the bank to save for college and educate myself. I could save a lot of money in the bank. I can go through college twice. I could be smart if I did go through college. I would be very smart. Brian Hallwas

TB Test Given In Co. Schools

Tuberculosis skin testing of County school children was conducted at five school clinic centers during November, through the cooperation and support of the County Medical Society, County Superintendent of Schools, school personnel and volunteer workers.

A total of 1900 children in grades 1, 4, 7 and 10 received tuberculin tests sponsored by the county nurse's office. This was approximately 80% participation.

In addition, 59 adults (school personnel and volunteers) took the test. The second day after the testing the county nurse visited the schools to determine the test results for interpretation by the family physician.

Nursing visits will be made to the parents of reactors when they will be told the significance of the test and the reason for consulting their physician for medical follow-up.

Pro-rated clinic costs, exclusive of nursing personnel and supplies, will be shared by the various townships and villages.
